

Rosetown Writer's Group

Purpose of the Organization: To provide a place where local writers can gather to nurture and inspire each others writing projects.

Participants: Male/Female adults, all levels of writers. Beginners, emerging, published, unpublished and all genres.

Programs and Services: The group meets once a month in the Civic Center, usually the third Wednesday of the month. A small registration fee to cover costs of photocopying and mailing is required. At the meetings, work is shared at a round table and a discussion is held where the piece is critiqued, focusing on what is working and what needs to be improved.

Special Events: In the spring a workshop is held with a professional writer for members only.

Accomplishments: Two members, Brenda Peters and Shirley Sclfeld, won provincial writing awards. Helen Mourre has published two books. Past members who have published books include Blanche Moxley and Thelma Foster.
